Inasmuch White Elephant Sale Aids Lion's Whelps

FAMOUS FRED SMITH WILL PUT ELEPHANTS THROUGH PAGES

The Lions war benefit sale of white elephant articles promises to be the biggest "January Sale" in North York when the thousand and three articles of useful and ornamental gadgets and furnishings being gathered up by the Lions club members will go under the hammer of the popular auctioneer, Fred Smith, on Friday, Jan. 30, at the Newmarket town hall.

The Lions are commencing a door-to-door canvass this week-end for donations of things that our citizens have no more use for which might be needed by others. This will help answer that question of what to do with those good high-chairs, old pieces of furniture, white elephant Christmas or wedding gifts, clothing, toys, buggies, buckskins, tools, hand-sleighs, etc.

All have something they have wanted to part with or throw out. Now the Lions will turn it into cash for their war work. Already this year they have sent $200 to their national Lions fund for British child bomb victims, being administered by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth through the War and Strays Society. It takes $130 to provide for one child for a year.

Here are a few typical cases: Sally Smith, aged 34, both parents, her brother and sister killed in a raid.

One boy aged seven under Lions' care has had his leg blown off and another small baby has been very badly burned by an incendiary bomb. These are but three of the 2,600 children whom Canadian Lions have taken responsibility for.

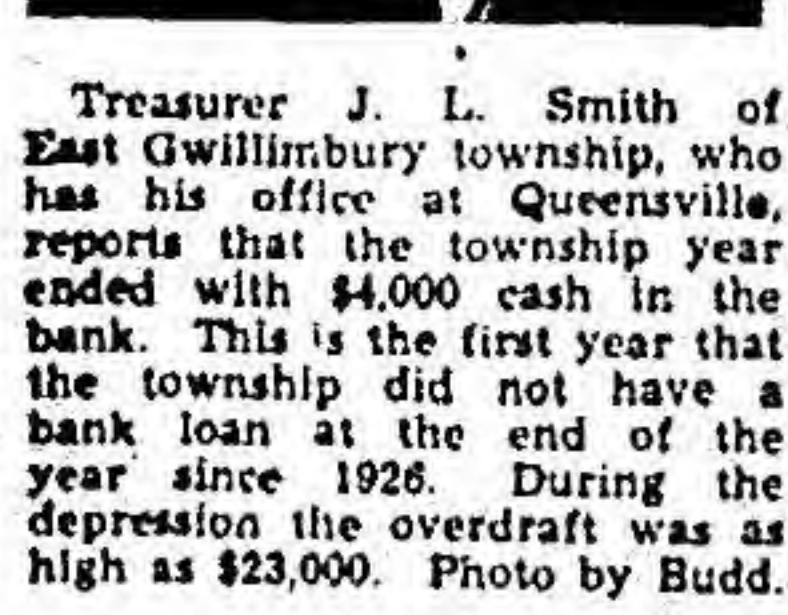

Every citizen appreciates the fact that Newmarket kiddies have so far been spared this fate and will want to help the Lions in this good work.

RED CROSS SOCIETY WILL HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Newmarket branch of the Red Cross will be held in the town hall on Friday, Jan. 16, at 3 p.m. A large attendance of all interested persons is urged for the purpose of receiving reports and election of officers for 1942. Membership fees will be received by the treasurer.

TOWNSHIP FINANCIAL STANDING IS HIGH

Treasurer J. L. Smith of East Gwillimbury township, who has his office at Queensville, reports that the township year ended with $4,000 cash in the bank. This is the first year that the township did not have a bank loan at the end of the year since 1926. During the depression the overdraft was as high as $23,000. Photo by Budd.

HOW TO SEND YOUR BLOOD TO BOYS TOLD

WORK OF BLOOD DONOR CLINICS DESCRIBED TO LIONS CLUB

FOUNDER SPEAKS

The story of the development of a dried blood serum, for use on the field of battle, by Dr. C. H. Best, co-discoverer of insulin, was told by G. R. Sproat, founder and organizer of Canada's blood-donor clinics, to the Newmarket Lions club on Monday evening.

"Shortly after the war broke out Dr. Best set out to find a dried blood serum," said Mr. Sproat. "Students at the University of Toronto were the donors for the first six months. He found that the red blood cells wouldn't last more than three weeks. So he took off the red blood cells.

"In taking off the red cells you lose the white cells too, and the blood is reduced almost one-half in the process."

Mr. Sproat said that there were four types of blood and that each type is taken. "Less than one percent of all blood we receive is found useless," he said.

The serum left after the blood cells are taken off is condensed and the moisture drawn off. The bottle containing the blood is hermetically sealed, and is put in a can which is also hermetically sealed.

"The can is then sent overseas," said Mr. Sproat. "It is at every air station, on every corvette. Some of it no doubt will go with our boys to Singapore."

Mr. Sproat said that donors are asked to give blood only four or five times a year. The day they give the blood they are asked not to eat any fats for breakfast. "You'd be surprised how fast fat gets into the blood," he commented.

Mr. Sproat told how Dr. Best perfected his serum and got a grant of $5,000 from the Red Cross to carry on, and how the National Research Committee recommended that Connaught Laboratories be paid $25,000 for equipment and $10,000 a month on condition that there be 2,000 blood donors a month across Canada. Toronto Skating club gave $25,000 to the Toronto branch.

The Toronto blood donor clinic is at 410 Sherbourne St. "What we do at Sherbourne St. is small compared with what is done at Connaught Laboratories," Mr. Sproat said.

"We have 150 workers at our clinic and only two are paid," Mr. Sproat said.

"We can put through donors at the rate of one a minute," Mr. Sproat said. "We don't give a physical examination. We take a medical history. Since we started Jan. 2, 1940, we have had 23,000 donations, and we have never had an accident."

"This is one thing a man can do and go on with his work," said Mr. Sproat. "It takes about 15 minutes at the clinic, including sitting down afterward and having a cup of coffee."

Mr. Sproat said that there are three morning clinics a week at 410 Sherbourne St. and that anyone interested is invited to visit the clinic and try giving a donation. Preparation of the equipment for the clinics keeps the large staff busy, for the rest of the week.

"You may be saving some fellow's life," he said.

Mr. Sproat said also that the clinic needs money for its work.

J. S. Law, introduced Mr. Sproat. Jack Steer, of Toronto, said that Mr. Sproat is giving both his time and his money to the blood donor plan. Mr. Steer introduced Frank O'Brien, a director of Associated Screen News, who showed pictures of the blood donor work.

"Mr. Sproat is doing as much or more than anyone in Canada to win the war," said Mr. Law. "If we all put as much into it as he is doing, I don't think that this war would last very long."

FORMER PICKERING COLLEGE STUDENT SEES MORE THAN NORTHERN LIGHTS ON ARCTIC

The following letter is from Rev. T. M. Wesley's only son, Kenneth, of Cambridge, Ont., who sailed from New York for Iceland on convoy duty. He is a nephew of Dr. J. H. Wesley of Newmarket, a graduate of Pickering College, and a graduate of Radio College in Toronto. His final destination was supposed to be Archangel, where ice breakers are keeping the north route free of ice for supplies reaching Russia.

Somewhere near Iceland, Nov. 3, 1941.

Dear Mother and Dad:

Well here we are approaching Iceland. We left that east Canadian port (you know what) on Oct. 22. The day before the captain and I went ashore to the convoy conference at the naval station. I met two of the boys from the R.C.C. there, Ed Davidson and Tom Scotland. We left early the next morning before the rest for gun practice. They wouldn't give us a gun crew of navy guys as we are supposedly neutral ship. In the afternoon the convoy started and we took our position at the end of the second line from the left. Davidson was to our left and Scotland to our right ahead. I was sick the second and fourth days out when the sea was a bit rough. It's an awful feeling.

All was quiet for almost the next week, although one ship had to turn back for some reason or other. Then a few days later a tanker on our right broke down and dropped out—too bad, because nothing can be done for them then. That night I heard or rather felt my first depth charges, for they jar the ship quite a lot. Don't know what happened.

Then last Friday getting into the U-boat zone I was on watch on the bridge when away over the horizon there was a tremendous blaze of light and a red hot ball of burning gas rose over the skyline and exploded, leaving a cloud of black smoke that was there for an hour. The mate said probably some poor beggars got it then. Just after that a destroyer to our port side started tearing around in circles, dropping depth charges. I guess he got the sub, as a bobbing light appeared and the destroyer resumed course.

That night I was just going to lie down and read for a while when the alarm bell went off, nearly scaring me out of my skin. It was an air raid and off to our right we could see flares dropping below the clouds. However, nothing happened, so it must

Prime Minister Takes Time To Congratulate Couple

MR. AND MRS. JOHN H. COLLINS MARK 65 YEARS WED

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Collins, Newmarket, quietly observed their 65th wedding anniversary on Saturday. While both enjoy good health, no "celebration" of this remarkable event was held.

They attended, however, an evening dinner held in their honor at the home of a son, Walter M. Collins and Mrs. Collins, Newmarket. Also present on this occasion was their other son, Russell G. Collins of Leaside, recently of Orillia, together with the latter's wife and son, Gordon.

There are two other grandchildren, Miss Jean, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Collins, and Jack Pritchard, a son of their deceased daughter, Florence Gertrude.

Mr. and Mrs. John Collins are aged 87 and 85 respectively, and have resided at their present home on Park Ave. for 52 years.

Mr. Collins was born at Sharon and Mrs. Collins (formerly Catharine Fox) at Markham. They have lived in Newmarket and vicinity all their lives.

After farming for about 15 years, the couple moved into the town. Mr. Collins comes of U. E. Loyalist stock. He always liked horses, "teamed" for a good many years in Newmarket, and was an employee of the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. for 30 years.

Both continue in active life. Mrs. Collins does a good deal of knitting and sewing. Mr. Collins takes his daily walks, and on Christmas day, while in Toronto, attended the Maple Leaf-Boston hockey game.

Looking back to their marriage in 1877, they can see many changes in living conditions, and think the young people of today, whom they enjoy, are fortunate in the many inventions achieved today contributing to their pleasure, education and health.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins, who are Liberals of long standing, received a letter of congratulation from Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King and a telegram from Postmaster-General W. P. Mulock.

Gnr. Fred Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Cunningham, Newmarket, has arrived safely in Britain.

There will be a scrap pick-up on the east side of the town on Saturday, Jan. 24. Please remember this date.

WILL SPEAK ON A.R.P. AND SURGICAL SHOCK

An A.R.P. and War Emergency talk will be given in the town hall on Tuesday, Jan. 20, at 8 o'clock. A talk on A.R.P. work will be given by Major Murray Muir of the Newmarket training centre and "Surgical Shock" will be dealt with by Dr. L. W. Dales, with demonstrations by Mrs. R. J. Rogers and local nurses. It is hoped that each factory, business, school, service organization and home will be represented.

GIFT OF TIME SAVES NINE TONS A MONTH

WASTE MATERIAL WANTED BY SCOUTS TO PUSH WAR EFFORT

USE YOUR PHONE

Newmarket Boy Scouts gathered 74 tons of scrap in eight months of 1941, according to a letter to Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales from President Robert Martin and Secretary W. A. Spear of the Newmarket Boy Scouts Association.

The Scouts have done a grand job, and expect to step up their collections, with increased assistance from the public. Every available scrap of waste material is needed for war purposes. Householders are asked to keep a large cardboard box in a handy place and put into it all small pieces of cardboard, wrapping paper, rags, etc.

Get in touch with the Scouts by calling any of these telephone numbers, 431, 116, 228 or 56.

Please be patient with the boys. They are doing a fine job and should anyone be neglected on the regular monthly pick-up call to any of these numbers will certainly receive attention.

Dr. L. W. Dales, Mayor of the Town of Newmarket, Ont.

Dear Sir:

Re: National Salvage Campaign

At your request this Association undertook the collection of waste materials in April, 1941. At first considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining a building in which to accumulate materials collected. Through the co-operation of Dixon Pencil Company, a building was provided and repaired. Several interested citizens volunteered their help in putting a new roof on the building, and through the co-operation of the town council a truck was made available after 5 o'clock and on Saturday afternoons for collection purposes.

From the beginning the work of collecting scrap materials has been carried on by the boys of the troop, with the exception of part-time assistance in the warehouse, and the driver of the truck.

During the eight months from April 1 to Nov. 30 the materials salvaged are as follows:

Newspapers, magazines, corrugated boxes and mixed papers	110,677 lbs.
String	2,748 lbs.
Tires, tubes and waste rubber	2,800 lbs.
Mixed rags	3,380 lbs.
Scrap iron and steel	26,494 lbs.
Copper, lead, zinc and brass	941 lbs.
Aluminum	607 lbs.

147,627 lbs.

This is an average of slightly more than nine tons per month. Proceeds from the sale of these materials are used for patriotic purposes. Donations have been made to Newmarket Red Cross, British War Victims' Fund, B. P. Chins Up Fund and Newmarket Veterans' Association.

Many citizens of Newmarket, householders, merchants and industrial establishments alike, by saving waste materials which previously were destroyed, are making these results possible. To you and council, to all those citizens who have contributed materials, and others who have assisted in various ways, we express our sincere appreciation.

Robt. Martin, president.
W. A. Spear, secretary.

DANCE BRINGS NEARLY $80 TO RED CROSS

Despite the fact that last Friday evening was one of the coldest experienced this winter, the Red Cross dance at the high school auditorium drew a good crowd, although not as large as usual.

An enjoyable evening was spent in dancing to the melodious music of Max Boag and his orchestra.

The ladies cleared nearly $80 for Red Cross work.

Prizes, donated by Capt. Dr. C. S. Gilbert, were won by Mrs. S. Inglis and Miss Jeanne Robertson. The prizes were war savings stamps.

Through the courtesy of Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, Chief Constable James Sloss and Constable Kenneth Mount were present to help with the car parking and to see that school fire precautions were observed. It is reported that the dance was orderly in every way and that everyone was pleased with the new arrangements.

Psychology Of War Discussed By Capt. Edwards And Mrs. Rogers At War Emergency Course

"Fear is a protective instinct," said Capt. J. C. R. Edwards, training camp medical officer, in a lecture in the town hall Tuesday evening on the psychology of fear, as part of the course on "Emergencies in War" sponsored by the Home and School Association.

"Fear itself is a stimulating process," said Capt. Edwards. "It usually stimulates people to their best endeavor. Through fear we have developed our present civilization. We are fearful of the future. We are fearful of our later years. If it hadn't been for this instinct of fear we would still be animals."

"Bravery is the ability to overcome fear," said Capt. Edwards. "In this war civilians are more exposed to danger than soldiers. The army is the safest place to be so far."

"With long-range bombers we could easily have the centre of Canada affected by war action today. A greater danger is sabotage. It has never been determined whether or not the Halifax explosion was caused by sabotage. That was the worst single catastrophe of the last war."

"To be able to meet an emergency with the best effect when it arises is the purpose of study. "Fear in its worst form is panic. If we weren't organized and weren't thinking of things that might happen panic could develop."

"When a soldier goes out and brings back two or three or six or 60 prisoners, that illustrates the fear reaction to surprise. One soldier comes upon a group of enemy soldiers. They have a moment's paralysis of fear, and he capitalizes on it and takes them prisoner."

"Through training it is possible to eliminate that moment's paralysis. The truck-driver has trained himself to act immediately in an emergency."

"There should be more than usual attention to public health and prevention of disease. You will remember that after the last war there were more people killed by influenza than in the war. Even now there are stories of typhus among the Germans. "The sooner all classes of people come together and organize for the good of all, the sooner we will get on with the job."

"After the last war there were so many soldiers and soldiers' families who had nowhere to go. (Page 8, Col. 6)

Girls March Into Camp, Take Over Duties Friday

C. W. A. C. GIRLS JOIN STAFF AT MILITARY TRAINING CAMP

Sixteen girls of the Canadian Women's Army Corps gather at the King George hotel this afternoon to march into Newmarket training centre escorted by the camp band.

They will be made up of two N.C.O.'s, four cooks, five waitresses, two drivers, two clerks and one dental assistant. Two more clerks and one more driver will arrive later in the week.

The C.W.A.C. will take over their duties in camp tomorrow.

A group of reserve recruits arrived in camp today. Their first night in camp will be marked by a commercial concert in the drill-hall.

CHILDREN ARE GUESTS OF TOWN'S VETERANS

The annual entertainment given to veterans' children and taggers for the Poppy fund took place on Friday evening in the town hall and was considered one of the best shows put on in years by the Newmarket Veterans' Association.

About 250 children and their mothers were admitted by ticket and it was a very happy crowd that greeted President Alf. Smith when he appeared on the stage with Vice-President Bill White to open the program.

At the request of the president all present stood at attention for the customary two minutes' silence for fallen comrades and then the fun started when Comrade White had young and old join in singing patriotic songs so heartily that they rocked the sides of the old hall.

Pipe Major McCarrroll, of the Newmarket training camp, then took up the slack and rendered some fine selections which were well applauded. The audience was then favored with a solo by Ronald Eves, who has a splendid voice, and a cowboy song with guitar accompaniment by the children's old favorite, Earl Bales.

At intervals candy, kindly donated by Councillor Frank Bowser, was handed around to the children.

In the meantime the main feature of the evening had been in preparation and the performer was now ready to do his stuff. The curtains were lowered to prepare the stage and when lifted a scene of mystery was presented by the different articles scattered about the stage. Comrade White then introduced Pte. Lancaster, a magician of merit, of the Newmarket camp, who, for about 45 minutes, kept the young and old holding their breath with wonderment at the mysterious and clever tricks he did with the different gadgets with which he was equipped.

Refreshments were then served and were enjoyed heartily by all. The singing of the national anthem brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

CONSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN IS ORGANIZED

The Committee for Total War, which publishes an advertisement urging conscription in this week's Era, hopes that we "will feel justified in commenting favorably upon its purpose."

We have no difficulty about that. The purpose of the advertisement is to convert people to the committee's way of thinking, and that seems to us a perfectly legitimate purpose, even though we ourselves are not convinced by the committee's appeal.

We take a different viewpoint, but we are anxious to present the viewpoint of those who disagree with us. We have probably reprinted more than a dozen editorials from other publications during the last few months presenting the pro-conscription point of view.

We do not think, from our slight study of the art of debate, that those who advocate conscription of manpower can hope for a great measure of success until they look sympathetically at what can be said against conscription and try to answer effectively.

Let us suggest a couple of points that the advocates of conscription should deal with (leaving out of account such questions as whether or not a government should be asked to break pledges made at the polls and whether or not national unity would be served by conscription):

1. Is a conscripted army as good as a voluntary army? Was Canada's Great War army so outstanding partly because it was voluntary, because every man in it wanted to be in or had been convinced that he should be in it?

2. How large an army should Canada contribute? What is the wisest balance between military, on the one hand, and industrial and agricultural contribution on the other?

3. Is it possible to achieve such a thing as equality of sacrifice, or should the aim frankly be to put each man where he can serve best? The mechanic in the factory, the farmer on the farm, and the man who wants to fight in the army provided that he is not more needed elsewhere?

4. If it is sound, within the nation, to assign men to the tasks which they can best perform, is it not also sound as between nations? If, as we are told, China has 21,000,000 potential but largely unarmed soldiers, and little armaments production capacity, should Canada, with little manpower but great potential armaments production capacity, try to build up a big army or should she try to make herself complementary to China (and Russia) and do the thing that she can do best and that will be most useful?

5. Does Britain herself need tanks and planes or soldiers more? Should Canada try to increase her production of soldiers or her production of munitions? The Toronto Telegram of Jan. 3 quoted the military correspondent of a London newspaper to the effect that Britain needs 50,000 tanks "to win this war," and to the effect that one tank is worth hundreds of soldiers. Should Canada be conscripting men for overseas service who could be building tanks?

6. Is there any equality of sacrifice in conscripting one man's life and leaving another man's property untouched? Or in leaving another man at home to improve his financial position?

In conclusion, let us say, all credit to the band of men who, in what they believe to be the interests of Canada, are trying to organize public opinion behind "selective compulsory service." Perhaps they are right, but they cannot expect to gain the support of rural Ontario until they deal with the facts of the situation and discuss these questions about military conscription which are in the minds of thoughtful Canadians.

The Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's radio declaration that "parliament has been nothing but a shadow" must have reminded many of his hearers of the days when Canada had a "shadow government."

WHAT OTHERS THINK

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND CONSCRIPTION

(Petrolia Advertiser-Topic)

"The people of Canada want a national government composed of the ablest men that can be found," says the Midland Free Press in an editorial reprinted in the Carleton Place Canadian. The people of Canada, we say, do not want a national government. The people of Canada want a good stiff opposition which the people of Canada who want a national government failed to provide. Mackenzie King is not perfect by any means but he is not doing badly even "thing considered. There are people demanding that he step aside and make way for a new leader like Asquith and Chamberlain did in their day. But where in Canada is there another Lloyd George or Churchill? The argument is silly. The biggest complaint about Mackenzie King is that he is too political-minded to give the country overseas draft service. Public opinion in Quebec has undergone a change since the Japs got into the war, and it might have a strong influence on the prime minister as well.

As for the current tax rate, presumably the town will maintain the rate and pay out of current revenue this year and next the cost of renovating the clerk's office and the cost of such other permanent improvements as the council feel should not be postponed longer.

A GILT-EDGED INVESTMENT - EDUCATION

Members of the Newmarket high school board indicated at a meeting last week that at their next meeting they would consider the question of a cost of living bonus for the teaching staff. The public will heartily approve any steps the board may take to see that our high school staff are fairly rewarded for the splendid job they are doing for the teen-age boys and girls of the town. The inspectors' report published last week is typical of many fine reports on our high school in the last few years.

So far as teachers' salaries are concerned, and this is true of public school teachers' salaries also, we must take into consideration not only the increase in the cost of living, but also the fact that our teachers are loyally remaining with us at a time when many of them could secure more attractive employment elsewhere. Loyalty should be reciprocal. Our teachers are loyal to us, and we all want to be loyal to them.

The "Protestant League" advertises a meeting in Aurora to protest a post office ban on the "North Toronto Bible House." The dominion government has done some mighty unfair things in the name of the war emergency, but if Ottawa has erred in this instance the protest would be taken more seriously if it did not come from a clergyman who notoriously preaches hatred instead of love. Perhaps the "North Toronto Bible House" has been printing what has been preached.

THE CHICKADEES MEET SOME BEAUTIFUL VISITORS

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"It doesn't look as if this were going to be a lonely winter, does it?" Young Chips, the Chickadee, said to his mate, Merry. "There are all kinds of winter birds around Newmarket. Imagine chattering around with Evening Grosbeaks, just as if it were the usual thing. I can't get over it, because sometimes several winters might go by without one of them being seen."

"Yet this year there seem to be quite a number of them around this district," said Merry eagerly. "I think I see some of them right now down in The Era back garden. Come on down and we'll ask them why so many of them are here this year."

The two Chickadees flew down to the lower part of the garden behind The Era office and joined a group of 13 large, pretty birds who were sitting contentedly in a big Manitoba Maple tree, pecking casually at the seeds left hanging on the tree.

"Hello, Grosbeaks!" said the Chickadee gentleman cheerfully. "It seems funny to be talking to Evening Grosbeaks, of all people, and right here in the heart of Newmarket, only a few yards from the main street. We are used to seeing a few of your cousins, the Pine Grosbeaks, here in the winter, but not you fellows."

"My aren't you pretty!" exclaimed Merry admiringly to one of the birds. "I noticed you when you were flying over to this big tree, because I saw the white on your wings while you flew. That lovely yellow breast and back, black and white wings, black tail, the black and yellow head, and black face, give you an extremely well-dressed outfit. And then your big yellowish-white Grosbeak bill adds to your costume, too."

"That's an adult gentleman Grosbeak you're talking to," whispered Young Chips. "You'll notice that the lady Grosbeaks and the young birds aren't as bright and handsome as the adult gentlemen, but even so they are still very pretty, although duller in color."

"Are you birds enjoying the Manitoba Maple seeds?" asked Young Chips.

"Very much," replied one of the handsome adult Grosbeaks. "They are our favorite food, as a matter of fact. We like evergreen cones very much, too, but there are so few of them this year. And up north, it's terrible! There are practically none. We were very much upset by such a state of things, but there was nothing we could do about it, so we just had to move farther south. Some of our friends went over to King township and others went to Aurora."

"We like Newmarket very much, though, because there are so many lovely Manitoba Maples," a lady Grosbeak remarked.

"We never think so much of the soft maples," laughed Merry. "Perhaps it is because they are so plentiful around here. However, I'm glad that you folks are making good use of them, because we are certainly glad to have you as winter visitors."

"Gracious, there goes a Hawk, overhead away to the left," exclaimed the male Grosbeak. "It's a small Hawk, probably a Sharp-shinned."

"I'll bet anything that it's been following along after our flock," exclaimed the lady Grosbeak in nervous tones. "How in the world could we have missed seeing him?"

"Well, evidently he's decided to go on somewhere else without bothering us any more," replied the gentleman. "He didn't pounce on any of our number, thank goodness! We must watch out more carefully after this."

"You birds seem to have a sort of casual air which I rather admire," Young Chips said very seriously to the Grosbeaks. "Of course, you are much bigger than we are, although not as big as Robins. But you don't fuss and flutter about like we, and some of the other smaller birds do. You seem to take life in a more leisurely manner."

"There are some children playing right down under this tree now," said Merry to the lady Grosbeak. "I notice that none of your flock seem to be paying any attention to them. Of course, we Chickadees are used to having people around and rather enjoy it, but I'm surprised that you folks don't take alarm and fly away."

"Oh, no, we don't mind them either," said the lady calmly. "It's rather a change for us to have people around, but they don't bother us at all."

"We've been here for a couple of weeks now, wandering about in the town and staying for several days in one place," Mr. Grosbeak replied. "We may stay some time yet. It depends on food and weather, of course."

"I do hope you find the other birds neighborly," said Merry earnestly. "You'll meet a good many Starlings and English Sparrows around to try your patience, but then, I guess one has to put up with them wherever one is. They are especially plentiful in the Main St. district, I think, though."

"Oh, we won't worry about them," Mrs. Grosbeak answered with a laugh. "After all, we Grosbeaks are related to both of them, you know. All Grosbeaks belong to the Sparrow family, and the Starlings belong to the Blackbird family, and are also relatives."

cause we are certainly glad to have you as winter visitors."

"Gracious, there goes a Hawk, overhead away to the left," exclaimed the male Grosbeak. "It's a small Hawk, probably a Sharp-shinned."

"I'll bet anything that it's been following along after our flock," exclaimed the lady Grosbeak in nervous tones. "How in the world could we have missed seeing him?"

"Well, evidently he's decided to go on somewhere else without bothering us any more," replied the gentleman. "He didn't pounce on any of our number, thank goodness! We must watch out more carefully after this."

"You birds seem to have a sort of casual air which I rather admire," Young Chips said very seriously to the Grosbeaks. "Of course, you are much bigger than we are, although not as big as Robins. But you don't fuss and flutter about like we, and some of the other smaller birds do. You seem to take life in a more leisurely manner."

"There are some children playing right down under this tree now," said Merry to the lady Grosbeak. "I notice that none of your flock seem to be paying any attention to them. Of course, we Chickadees are used to having people around and rather enjoy it, but I'm surprised that you folks don't take alarm and fly away."

"Oh, no, we don't mind them either," said the lady calmly. "It's rather a change for us to have people around, but they don't bother us at all."

"We've been here for a couple of weeks now, wandering about in the town and staying for several days in one place," Mr. Grosbeak replied. "We may stay some time yet. It depends on food and weather, of course."

"I do hope you find the other birds neighborly," said Merry earnestly. "You'll meet a good many Starlings and English Sparrows around to try your patience, but then, I guess one has to put up with them wherever one is. They are especially plentiful in the Main St. district, I think, though."

"Oh, we won't worry about them," Mrs. Grosbeak answered with a laugh. "After all, we Grosbeaks are related to both of them, you know. All Grosbeaks belong to the Sparrow family, and the Starlings belong to the Blackbird family, and are also relatives."

"I always seem to put my foot in it," Merry said mournfully to Young Chips, as they were flying across the town to see some of their other friends. "I hope they weren't insulted by my comments on the English Sparrows and Starlings."

"Not likely," answered Young Chips consolingly. "They couldn't be sensitive about them, cousins or no cousins. They probably don't care for them any more than we do."

AFTERMATH

By GOLDEN GLOW

That little word "aftermath" can apply to a whole lot of things—for instance, it could easily apply to the hush the housewife usually makes to end up the Christmas turkey!

It may apply also to all the Christmas fashions strewn about the place, red and green tissue, and fancy Christmas paper of all descriptions, gay colored twine and cord and Christmas seals—fancy boxes, too—or it may even apply to all the new added wherewithal of a household, specially children's presents, for usually they get such a quantity of toys that you fall over them all over the place!

Again, aftermath can easily apply to a nervous condition brought on by too much rich food, too long hours without proper sleep, or it may mean pain in our joints and muscles from an unaccustomed exercise trying out a new pair of skis or skates or even from taking too long a walk when not accustomed to walking.

In our stores it quite often means dissatisfied folk who ask for an exchange from some gift given them that they do not appreciate.

For others it may simply mean a pause where one can sit quietly down and enjoy all the delightful things Santa Claus brought—the chance to really see all the lovely Christmas greeting cards—or maybe a few minutes to devote to a dear friend or a neighbor—a visit with someone who has had to spend Christmas in the hospital, or who is ill at home. Again it may mean a pleasant hour spent with a grand new book that some person, knowing your love for books, has sent to you. Maybe again it means you can give proper attention once more to your poor neglected house-plants. Oh, we can think up a lot of such things for ourselves—our own pet problems—but if all could come under the word "aftermath."

I'm afraid, though, with some, it means only a reaction to all the pleasant happy activities that Christmas brings—they feel life is stale and unprofitable—their gifts do not mean anything to them—they go around with a chip on their shoulder during the world at large to come and knock it off. That is their sad misfortune—and it calls for a good crop of New Year's resolutions.

York Federation Will Hear Agnes Macphail

Encouraged by the very splendid meeting at Newmarket in December, which was addressed by Col. Geo. A. Drew, the York County Federation of Agriculture has arranged to hold a meeting in Markham town hall on Friday, Jan. 16, when the guest speaker will be Miss Agnes Macphail, former federal member for Grey county. Miss Macphail has always been a champion of the cause of the farmer.

The federation, through its affiliation with the various agricultural organizations and rural municipalities of the county, makes every farmer automatically a member and all are invited to attend this meeting, to which there is no admission charge.

A collection will be taken up for bond and war victims' funds. At the Newmarket meeting $51 was taken in, with $25.50 being sent to each of the funds, sponsored by the Toronto Star and Evening Telegram.

There will be an orchestra in attendance and the meeting will begin at 8 p.m., S.T.

HOLIDAYS CAN DO THIS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

The night was very cold: the wind made the spruce tree lap at the window in a ghostly way, and all the windows were frosted over and the full moon shining through struck tiny points of light which glittered like diamonds.

Speck lay on the rug before the blazing fire, in a very luxury of comfort and spot sat alertly nearby, knowing as cats know, by certain nightly preparations that he and Speck would soon be expected to trot off to the barn, there to fight or sleep, as inclination averted them.

"I think Speck has a cold—his purr's a bit hoarse," said mother, looking at her pet, and I don't think he should have to go out."

"Well, Spot has a toothache—his jaw's swollen, so he must stay in too," I remarked, firmly.

"Then they'll fight and you will have a lively night," observed my better half.

"No doubt," said I, "but I haven't the heart to put them out on a night like this." I added as the wind gave a particularly loud shriek and the telephone wires whined and sang, while loud cracks announced that Jack Frost was up to some tricks.

So we retired and peace descended on Ingleside, save for the occasional banging of a shutter or the rather ghostly creaks that make one think some former inhabitant of the house may be stealing about looking at the changes.

"I hope they like the Christmas trees," I thought in an absurd way, having just finished a ghost story, and then I knew no more till I heard the alarm clock.

"Why will I set the alarm on Saturday night?" I muttered as I grabbed the clock and smothered it in the bed clothes, and then tried to recapture a dream in which I was sailing off to some delightful summer land.

"Mew, Mew, MEOW," came in a rapid crescendo right at my ear, and without opening my eyes I seized dressing gown and slippers and flew to the rescue.

But it was only Speck demanding to be let out to go and sing a serenade to some fair kitten Juliet. As I turned from the door I glanced at the clock—Seven o'clock, said I. "I've an hour yet," and once more tried to recapture sleep.

Just then, in the distance, like the voice of doom, I heard a whistle—"Archie," I called, "it's SEVEN O'CLOCK and it's NOT Sunday."

"Who ever thought it was?" I heard as I departed, leaving a trail of lamentations in my wake.

However, toast and coffee were soon ready, but the crowning indignity of that morning came when friend husband said with a chuckle, "Many happy returns of the day."

Yes, it was my birthday and Saturday—not Sunday!

WITH THE CHURCHES

The W.A. of Aurora United church held its first meeting of the year last Thursday with Mrs. Charles Bilbrough presiding.

Reginald Sheppard gave an interesting exhibition of pictures taken in the mining country. A double trio of Carol McNaught, Vera Walker and Joan Harrison sang. Plans were laid for a Valentine tea.

The meeting of the United church Y.P.U. was held in the Sunday-school room on Monday with about 40 members present.

After the singing of a hymn the president, Arnold Miller, led in prayer.

Mary Bowman gave a delightful piano solo. The scripture, Matt. 25, was read by Mrs. Miller. Rev. Roy Hicks conducted the installation of officers for 1942.

To impress on the minds of those looking on just how much work is connected with each office, different conveners and office holders gave a short talk on the meaning of their work and the responsibility connected with each job.

Mr. Hicks then pointed out the importance of attendance and co-operation of every member of the society.

The meeting closed with a few games led by the recreation convener, Edith Richards.

GRADS DEFEAT HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

A strong high school grads' basketball team defeated the Aurora high school senior five in a stirring battle that was in doubt until the last minute of play, on Monday afternoon.

The school had more experience, but the grads had more power. Ron, Kyle, with four points, was the top scoring old boy and Earl "Red" Rose, with six points, was the chief school menace. The grads led at the end of the first half 7-4.

In the second period the school rallied to take over the lead, but two quick baskets by Sparks and Kyle gave the grads a sparkling 15-12 win.

N. F. Johnson handled the game and was kept busy with minor infractions. Doug, and Ron, Kyle, George Billings and Fred Pugsley were best for the vets, while the youngsters depended on Bill Griffith, Earl Rose and Pete Hughey for their effectiveness.

Grads, guards, D. Kyle, D. Wilcox, W. Kerr, R. Lloyd; centres, L. Sparks and E. Jennings; forwards, G. Billings (3), E. Kyle (4), H. Fingold, W. Walker, F. Pugsley.

TEMPERANCEVILLE

Radio forums swung into action again on Monday evening, Jan. 12. The topic was "Wheat and the Prairies."

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Beynon were guests at an enthusiastic meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Glass at Laskay. They assisted with the organization of a forum, with Marshall MacMurchy as secretary. There were 28 folk present and they are determined to build a good strong forum at the start.

On Jan. 19 they will meet at the home of Laurie Boys, with Leonard Glass in charge. Good luck, Laskay!

The north Temperanceville group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arwood Harman, with M. Gordon Baldwin as convener.

The group concluded that Ontario compares favorably with the west in that Ontario farmers are not dependent for their income on wheat alone. Here there is mixed farming, more favorable climatic conditions and better and closer markets. Prosperity in the west means prosperity in the east. Low prices for grain in the west cause western farmers to feed their grain to livestock which is placed on the market in competition with Ontario livestock.

The word pictures of farmers at work in the different provinces showed that agriculture all across Canada is in a depressed condition. All sections have two problems in common—low farm income and scarcity of farm labor. Mrs. C. Henshaw was in charge of recreation.

The south group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Umehara, with Maurice Beynon conducting the discussions. Mrs. G. Boynton conducted the recreation. There were 18 present.

The south forum meets on Jan. 19 at the home of Norman Burnett, while the north group meets at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baldwin. The topic is "Is the Farmer Inefficient?"

The municipal doctor system is the special project to be studied at the next four meetings of all the radio forums in King township.

Existing forums are anxious to help with the organization of new groups. They are ready to share program guides, study material and the newspaper, "Farm Forum Facts," with anyone interested in starting a forum. They are also willing to send someone experienced in the work to a new meeting. A radio forum in every school section is the objective. Those taking part in forums feel that it is the duty of every farm person to join with his neighbors in studying and planning to solve the problems which face agriculture today.

CHAPLAIN DESCRIBES BLITZ ENGLAND

Major Rev. H. P. Charters, rector of St. Cyprian's Anglican church, Toronto, addressed the men's club of Trinity Anglican church on Monday evening at a banquet held in the parish hall for which the church ladies catered.

Rev. R. K. Perdue pronounced grace and W. C. Waite was toastmaster. Mayor Frank Underhill introduced Major Charters, who was a lieutenant in the last war and this time went over as chaplain to the first division, returning in January of 1941.

"The best job we can do is not to get hysterical about the war but to keep our feet on the ground and our chins up," declared his worship.

"The soldiers of today are well cared for," said Major Charters, describing his trip overseas and conditions at Aldershot, Witley and Bramshott camps. "As a chaplain I have never been in favor of compulsory church parades, at least not more than once a month. I think it sometimes makes for a dropping off of church attendance after the war. I tried to study the man's problems and make religion something real for them, not something stereotyped." Every house in England was liable to commandeering for billets, he said, describing conditions under which Canadian soldiers lived.

"When I was there food was not scarce, but there was a great deal of sameness. I noticed a big change in the attitude of the English people, Unionville and Agincourt paraded to Aurora United church on Sunday morning.

Rev. Roy Hicks preached the sermon on "Influence." He stressed the desirable qualities for youth and men sponsored by the Boy Scouts and paid tribute to the late Chief Scout, Lord Baden-Powell.

"If we use our influence wrongly we will be punished, but if we use it properly God will reward us," he declared. "There are many influences which tend to mold character, the good parents, the good neighbor, the good teacher and men with a sense of public responsibility like the late Lord Baden-Powell."

Scoutmaster Dr. G. A. C. Gunton introduced the Secretary Edgar Jones of Toronto and Assistant District Commissioner Dick Edmunds of Richmond Hill. Mr. Jones read aloud the Scout promise, which was renewed as a body by the Scouts.

Books of fiction, history, supplementary reading and travel are on exhibition and the youngsters will be taught how to use reference books and the secret of the index system.

The first book clinic was held yesterday, when grade 8 youngsters were present.

Aurora has reason to be proud of the work the local women have done the past two years. The inclusion of men in some of the major jobs will, it is hoped, give the ladies more time to devote to the practical side of the work, with the men looking after general policy and the raising of needed funds.

Dr. Williams Made Interim M.O.H., Dr. Devins Says $190

Applications were received from Dr. G. W. Williams and Dr. C. J. Devins for the appointment as interim medical officer of health at the town council meeting on Monday evening.

Dr. Williams pointed out in his application that he had resided in town for 32 years and was medical health officer for Whitechurch township. He did not state any salary figure.

Dr. Devins in his letter offered to carry on duties of M.O.H. at a salary of $190.

The council after considerable discussion felt that before the matter be decided the question of salary should be settled first. By a vote of 6-2, with Councillors Linton and Cook dissenting, the salary was set at $275, the same as that paid Capt. Dr. C. R. Boulding.

On motion of Councillor Fred Rowland, seconded by Deputy Reeve C. E. Sparks, Dr. G. W. Williams' name was approved in committee and subsequently passed by the council. Dr. Williams' duties commence at once and last until Capt. Boulding returns.

A number of complaints from ratepayers regarding damage from trees were referred to the streets committee for action.

District Scouts Hear Sermon On "Influence"

Over 120 Scouts and Wolf Cubs from Aurora, Newmarket, Richmond Hill, Thornhill, Lansing, Willowdale, Unionville and Agincourt paraded to Aurora United church on Sunday morning.

Rev. Roy Hicks preached the sermon on "Influence." He stressed the desirable qualities for youth and men sponsored by the Boy Scouts and paid tribute to the late Chief Scout, Lord Baden-Powell.

"If we use our influence wrongly we will be punished, but if we use it properly God will reward us," he declared. DOWN THE CENTRE

Gravenhurst intermediates, who dropped a couple of games to Sutton Greenhills, are on the move to strengthen their team and before the season is over will be heard from in stronger terms.

Dick Hunter, the Bradford boy who for a couple of years was a stand-out with the Greenhills, has returned to strengthen the Indians' defence. Dick played last year at Gravenhurst but this season received a fine offer to play with Toledo, Ohio, and left Muskoka for the green fields to the south.

A little matter of immigration rules, however, interfered and the stocks of defence didn't get across the border, so he started to play industrial in Hamilton until he heard the call of the north.

A goalkeeper is the crying need of the Gravenhurst team and Mickey Smith, if he hadn't signed with Sutton, could have had the job. We recommended three or four boys who might fill the bill for Barney Wichman but two tips we gave we found to be phony as we had the space of 24 hours.

We suggested Harry Couse, the Barrie softball hurler and net-minder last year for Thornton, who we thought was still at Cookstown. Harry, however, according to Lloyd Houghton of Bradford, has decided on some action in the present conflict and is now stationed at the military aircraft school, whence he will join the R.C.A.F. in due time.

The loss of Couse will likely mean the collapse of Barrie Collegians in softball. Harry, we know, will make a good soldier and with his personality should go a long way. He has a slight crook in his pitching arm, which might have got him an exemption but he has a real fighting heart. Good luck, Harry!

The other wash-out was Charlie Spear of Penetang, erstwhile goalie of Barrie Colts. Spear saw his last year in junior in '41 and, as you will recall, was replaced by Ross Waddell in the Barrie nets following an operation. He played ball at his native Penetang this year and has within the last few weeks jumped all the way to Geraldton, in the Thunder Bay league to play. If you're free, white and pretend to be a goalie you might get yourself a little more than cake and coffee by contacting the Gravenhurst officials.

Roy "Mutt" Collings, who was a favorite in these parts for years for his good hockey, will not be with the Newmarket camp intermediates this year. Roy left in the last draft from the camp for Halifax and is probably due to see some action elsewhere. "Mutt," who was married not so long ago, will carry with him the best wishes of all district sportsmen for a safe return.

Bruce Stephens, who garnered three goals against Milton the other night and looks to be in for a good season at the left-wing end on the first line, is a real marksmen in more ways than one. Besides being a pretty deadly shot on the basketball court he enjoys nothing more than to take out his trusty Winchester and blast at rabbits, groundhogs, etc. On Christmas day a real opportunity came his way as he sighted two foxes within an hour. You guessed it. Theyard in both instances fell prey to the deadly marksmanship. They weren't foxes raised on his dad's fox farm but the variety that have been playing havoc with hen pens in Vaughan township. Stephens, however, says he'd rather score a goal on the ice than bag a cottontail or fox.

Incidentally, Del Beaumont, reports a change of the contrary, got three goals against Milton and not two. Stephens was credited with a tally that rightly belonged to Del. Stephens did have an assist on the goal, however. Baldy Stoddard, the former Bradford and St. Simon's lacrosse player of a few moons ago, has been over some months now. He's recently been transferred to the 48th Highlanders and will see a little different form of action now. We still recall that free-for-all in the old Bradford fair grounds when "Curly" Fleury combed Stoddard over the head and the local juvenile team were lucky to escape with their hides (at least it seemed so then) taking refuge in the judge's stand at the track. While it's a brother of "Curly" is a member of the same unit to which Stoddard is now attached.

Cliff Lockhart, secretary of the South-Simcoe hockey league, called a meeting for Thornton not long ago and there wasn't a single entry filed. So rural hockey in south the Camp too. Hughes kicked out 29 shots as against 40 for Evans.

Four players were signed by the local juniors with a weather eye to the future. Three saw action against the Camp while one was expected to see duty against Etobicoke. Proctor McQuillen and Bob Edwards, two boys from near Thornhill, asked for a trial and got it. McQuillen, a big defence-man, showed promise, while Edwards, a winger, did about all you could expect of a boy in his first game. Houghton, whom we have mentioned above, was also given a trial.

Harold Abrahams, a steady, steady defence pal of Ross Thompson, was also signed. He is not flashy but an excellent man to have ready for action. Despite the fact the team have done pretty well to date, the management are leaving no stones unturned to find better players if possible.

The new sweaters in double blue have attracted a great deal of attention and much favorable comment. The colors are the same as the local high school's and have been worn honorably and well by such big name teams as St. Michael's College, and the famed Toronto Argonauts. The locals on their showing to date won't disgrace them either. The club, not being commercially sponsored, are looking to the board of trade to help them out, while it is expected the Aurora fire brigade, with their characteristic generosity, will also contribute. There is no better advertisement for a town than a good clean hockey team, and a good clean hockey team, in the eyes of the community, will be a good thing. The Aurora business men will take some pride in the team and get behind it. The same colors used year after year, as used to be the case when yellow and black were always the Aurora colors, are a steady and economical influence. The present colors have a definite Aurora connection and should be maintained.

Brian Thompson, the big Sutton boy who on Charlie Rowntree's judgment was the best right-winger in the group last year and was the centre of controversy between Sutton and Newmarket officials, has turned in two good games to date and will improve. Rowntree is working him on the defence and much of his weight he will be a stand-out in the line-up. The only fly in the ointment is that every other week he is engaged on war work at night and so will be available for the team on limited occasions.

Tommy Meyers is again coaching pickering College and has a fair club assembled. Tommy would like to get started as an O.H.A. referee and he has both the brains and experience to make good. We would like to see him assigned to some of the games here. A new crop of referees is something the O.H.A. has needed for years and this season it looks as though there will be many new faces seen.

Bob Hills is the latest Aurora softshooter to join the armed forces, reporting for duty this week with the R.C.O.C. At high school Bob was a pretty good basketball player and a fair hockey performer.

Last year he was pretty useful in utility roles for the ball club and chances of a team here next year continue to fade. Hills trained with the Yorks in the reserve corps and was one of the brightest of the recruits with the Yorks.

Jack Wheeler, who played for Guelph juniors last year, has been released by Collingwood intermediates to play with Barrie juniors and he should prove a needed tonic for Larry Molyneux's boys. Penetang took Barrie in their first clash with Bill Armstrong, who played here last year a bit, being a stand-out for Bill Hancock. Owen Sound are currently at the head of the northern group and not likely to be replaced by anyone in the group. Hancock, who is building for the future, has a young fast team capable of pulling an upset. Barrie are expected to show here sometime this season but the best they could do was 7-7 tie with Markham in an exhibition tilt, which is hardly good enough for Junior B. That game was a regular Donnybrook, with nearly 30 penalties handed out and only the playing of "The King" stopping a small riot on the ice.

Markham juniors are not going too well these days! That Etobicoke defeat, plus internal squabbles, trouble over the rink and the loss of Bobby Lynn to Native Sons has made the boys jittery. Some of their players are said to be flirting with other clubs. It always takes an intricate to repeat with a championship outfit. Once kids play on a championship team, as a group together they are ready for the prima donna class so far as a temperamental is concerned. It takes a real coach to solve the problem. Can Bob Hankay bring them together? Personally, we have our doubts.

Vandorf

Wesley church young people had a skating party at Aurora arena last Wednesday evening and were entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Westcott afterwards. All report a happy time.

Miss Dorothy Mitchell, who is in York county hospital recovering from an appendicitis operation, is expected home this week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. John Petch on Jan. 21. The roll-call will be answered by "A traffic law." The topic, "Legislation," will be taken by Mrs. Ralph Willis. There will be a contest on drop cakes. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. Moynihan and Mrs. C. Richardson.

Ravenshoe

Last Sunday at the United church a good congregation was present. Rev. Gordon Lapp spoke on the subject, "Master, is it I?" Holy communion was observed.

The Y.P.U. held their election of officers last Wednesday evening, a goodly number being present on such a cold night.

Last week was a real winter's week of very cold weather. The temperature went down to 18 below, the lowest this winter.

Today, Monday, is quite mild again. The days are getting longer.

WILL MEET ON JAN. 22

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society of the Congregational-Christian church will be held at the home of Mrs. Jas. Bond, Queen St. W., on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 22, at 2.30 p.m.

TOTAL WAR NOW!

The Parliament of Canada meets on January 21st. The most momentous session in Canadian history begins in a few short days. It is your Parliament. The members are the servants of the people, not of any party. They represent every one in the constituency which elected them. Each one of them needs your help as never before. Assert your democratic right to govern. Tell your member what you think should be done and do so without delay.

There is one issue which overshadows all others. The Prime Minister of Canada has told us what that issue is. These are his own words: "There is only one way to meet total war, and that is by total effort."—"We must maintain the Canadian army at full fighting strength." The Leader of British democracy told the people of Canada what total effort means. These were Winston Churchill's words: "In this strange, terrible world war there is a place for every one, man and woman, old and young, hale and halt. Service in a thousand forms is open. There is no room for the dilettante, for the weakling, for the shirker or the sluggard. The mine, the factory, the dockyard, the salt sea waves, the fields to till, the home, the hospital, the chair of the scientist, the pulpit of the preacher—from the highest to the humblest, the tasks are all of equal honor. All have their part to play."

To fulfil that description of total effort is the first and foremost duty of the Parliament of Canada. The people of Canada must be told what part they are to play. They cannot guess. Every man and woman, strong or weak, old or young, must be guided by the Government to the post where they can contribute most to victory. We are conscious of the substantial efforts made throughout the war by the Canadian Government. We are anxious to assist them in making the vital decisions forced upon them by the events of the past few weeks. We do not believe that the people of Canada consider that their Government or its leader are in any way bound by undertakings given before the United States entered the war. This is no time for a referendum. The responsibility rests squarely on Parliament. The war will not wait.

There is only one way to meet total war—by total effort—that is to mobilize all our manpower and material resources under a plan of universal compulsory selective service. Those who can serve best on the farms must work on the farms. Those who can serve best in the factories must work in the factories. And those best fitted to serve in the armed forces must be trained, equipped, and available for service in Canada or overseas anywhere at any time. That is the only way that our farms, our factories and our armed forces can wage total war. No half measures are consistent with national honor.

If you agree with that opinion then it is your duty to tell your member NOW that you want him to insist upon the immediate adoption of such a plan. Tell him that you want the business of government brought into Parliament where it belongs. Tell him to inform Parliament, and through Parliament the whole of Canada, that the people of his riding advocate and will support any measures, however drastic, which will assure the last ounce of effort of which they are capable. To Canada's Parliament, which meets in a few short days, Mr. Winston Churchill said this: "The enemy has asked for total war. Let us be sure that he gets it." Tell your member in the short time which still remains that you want to be sure that we do wage total war and that you want him to say so in your behalf on the floor of Parliament.

There is an added reason why you must act immediately if you believe that democracy is government by the people. Last week, President Roosevelt told one hundred and thirty million people of the United States where their armed forces are going to fight in this war. "As our power and resources are fully mobilized, we shall carry the attack against the enemy—we shall hit him and hit him again, wherever and whenever we can reach him." We are partners with the United States in this struggle. We signed a pact binding us to a common effort. National honor and the safety of our people demand that every man who wears the uniform of Canada be ready at all times to go overseas to hit the enemy wherever and whenever he can be reached. What a shameful travesty of justice it would be if we approved of unity of military command and failed to establish unity of sacrifice between two nations. Canada's honor is at stake.

The Committee for Total War urges you to act without delay. Send your member a telegram, a letter or a postcard at once. This is your most important task. Your member represents you no matter what your party may be. He is your voice in Parliament. When you put down this newspaper, act at once. If you agree with the opinion supported by this Committee, say so.

KESWICK
Keswick Church Ladies
Elect 1942 Officers

The first meeting of the W.M.S.
of Keswick United church was held at a joint W.A. and W.M.S.
meeting. The president of the W.A., Mrs. W. Davison, took
charge of the worship service,
assisted by Miss Eva Gilroy at the piano. Mrs. Perry Winch and Mrs. Baines.

Mrs. W. E. Morton, the recently
elected president of the W.M.S.,
conducted the business in connection with that society. The roll-call was replied to by the members paying their fees for the year. Several new members were welcomed. Plans for making quilts for the spring bazaar
in the near future were discussed.
The allocation was reached in 1941 and the members were much gratified.

Mrs. Vaughan, superintendent of the baby band, entertained the babies, their mothers and the executive to a delightful afternoon party on Dec. 9 and Miss Helen Smith, superintendent of the mission band, had a most enjoyable party for her band at her home on Dec. 27.

Announcement was made at the meeting of the annual meeting of Toronto centre presbyter-
ial W.M.S. in Toronto on Jan. 27.
It was hoped many would be able to attend. Will anyone wishing to dispose of old Christmas cards
kindly leave the same with Miss Eva Gilroy?

Mrs. Morton closed the meeting
with a suitable New Year prayer.
The following are the officers
for 1942: honorary presidents,
Mrs. Gordon Lapp, Mrs. Vaughan

The January supper of the Women's Association of Keswick
United church held on Thursday
was a very happy occasion for all who attended.

In the afternoon the Women's Association had held a joint meeting with the Woman's Missionary Society of the church,
which was largely attended.

The ladies who so capably
managed the supper arrangements were Mrs. J. Baines, Mrs.
D. McGonery, Mrs. Arthur
Pollock and Mrs. Austin Huntley.
The committee in charge are to be congratulated on the appearance of the tables, bright with yellow paper daffodils and evergreens, and especially on the bountiful delicious hot supper
served to the fine number present.

A concert followed, at which William Davison was chairman.
Mrs. Harold Pollard played the piano for the hymn which opened
the concert. Between the selections which followed Mr. Davison told a number of humorous
stories.

The children had a prominent part in the program. They seemed happy to entertain and
the audience was delighted to hear them. Phyllis Rye gave a piano solo. Marjorie and Isabel Peters sang two patriotic songs,
accompanied by Mrs. Sam Pegg.
Lorne Mainprize played the piano. Marilyn Rye sang a cowboy song, accompanied by her sister, Phyllis Rye.

Mrs. Ernest Morton gave a timely short recitation for the children on using pennies for war saving stamps.

Mrs. Jackson then gave a most entertaining talk on her work as a telephone operator in a large central office. Some of her experiences were very funny. She also gave many helpful hints on
the correct use of the telephone.
She advised her hearers to speak
very distinctly and at the proper distance from the mouthpiece.
She advised them also to give
central time to answer their call.
Central might have many calls to answer at the rush hour, she said.

Lakeside Institute will be held

WHITCHURCH TOWNSHIP

Hospital Indigents
Must Repay Township

Indigent patients being admitted to hospital under the Hospitalization Act must in future
obtain a signed agreement with
the municipality, if they belong
to Whitchurch township, the Whitchurch council ruled at a meeting on Monday.

In view of the increase in the number of indigent patients
under the act, the council will try to hold the situation more in check by this means. The resolution agreed to by all the council read in part: "That before entering hospital as an indigent
or next of kin must apply in person to the clerk of the mun-
cipality for an order, and sign
the necessary agreement and application form. In case of dire
emergency, this must be done
within 24 hours after admittance."

The agreement to be signed
will require the patient to pay back to the municipality such sums in small amounts as they
can afford in monthly payments.

"I think this may prove to be a grand thing," said Reeve Earl Toole. "Many of these patients
ought to pay at least part of the expense, and it is in keeping with the county recommendation
that an effort be made to collect
from those who receive the benefit of the hospital," he concluded. Councillors Evans and Logan sponsored the resolution.

Councillor Eugene Baker again
protested several items for tobacco on the bills of one or two indigent persons receiving
help from the township.

"I notice there are bacon and
eggs charged up too," said Councillor Logan. Mr. Baker said he would not protest those items so much, but as for tobacco, he just wouldn't agree to it.

Reeve Toole pointed out that the accounts had been O.K.'d by
the relief officer, and they would have to be paid, but the council
was at liberty to direct the officer to discontinue allowing the buying of tobacco. As for bacon, Councillor Evans wondered if a pound of bacon was not as cheap
for a single person, as in this case, as any other meat. It would go farther, he thought.

A notice from the department
of highways emphasized the fact that snow plows and other
machinery operating for road
work and belonging to or engaged by the municipality could be refuelled at any hour and that such road machinery was not subject to the limited hours for
the sale of gasoline as other motor vehicles.

The township hall board, to direct the affairs of the Vandorf
hall, was named as follows:
Reeve Toole, Deputy Reeve
Leary, Mrs. H. Dewsbury, J. A.
Clark, Mrs. A. H. VanNostrand,
W. D. Richardson, Mrs. J. Hennessey.

A long time was spent over
the appointment of the township
assessor, which went to the former assessor, F. C. Cummings, at $500. He must assess the entire township and collect the dog
taxes as well. The pay is increased $120 over last year.

Reeve Toole said he realized
there might be criticism of this appointment at the salary, but he felt the public scarcely realized the importance or magnitude
of the task.

Clerk Crawford outlined new duties that were to be taken on this year, such as tabulating the public buildings in the township, including the schools, and
public lands such as cemeteries,
giving their dimensions, value,
etc., as set out in the regulations.

After hearing what was involved the council decided they must have an experienced
assessor, as his work was the foundation for a good tax roll.

"We can leave the matter over,
but it may entail a special meeting," said Mr. Toole. Mr. Evans
suggested that they proceed with the appointment. Mr. Baker wasn't adverse to delaying the issue, but when Mr. Leary and Mr. Logan agreed to proceed, the name of F. C. Cummings was filled in on the by-law.

Other appointments included Russell Gray to the board of health, Constable Windsor as school attendance officer and sanitary inspector, R. W. Andrew
as auditor, (he having received
the approval of the department),
and Elmer Starr as weed inspector.

The council was duly sworn in
at 11 a.m., with the only change
on the board from last year
being Councillor L. P. Evans, replacing Herbert Wells, who became a non-resident of the township.

Mount Pleasant

The severe cold of last week
has moderated and everybody
seems to be pleased that it has.
Some thermometers registered 18
below zero at that time.

Not so many were at church
on Sunday. Perhaps the stormy
day and cold kept them away.

The young people will meet at the home of Alex. Hopkins on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

The annual church meeting
was held last Monday afternoon
at the church, with all the same
officers re-elected and a few others added.

this month at the home of Mrs.
R. Pollock on Thursday evening,
Jan. 22. The husbands will provide the program. Ladies please bring refreshments.

"Tillie The Toller" and "Outlaw
of Panhandle"

Forty million "funnies" fun can't be wrong. And, if Hollywood reports are to be credited, those forty
million fans aren't wrong—"Tillie
the Toller" is a honey if there ever
was one!

In the film, which opens Friday
at the Strand Theatre and based upon Russ Westover's popular cartoon strip, "Tillie the Toller" is the delightful heroine of one of the most enjoyable photoplays of the
year, a down-to-earth story of human beings and, especially, of a lovable young woman whose major
interests in life naturally include
dates and clothes. "Tillie" is an appealing young stenographer, interested as much in her job as she is in dresses or boys. She's fun to watch, fun to be with, fun to know.

On the same program, Charles Starrett's latest thriller promises to be the best yet. The Pioneers
again supply tune-filled range ballads in support of the star.

MONDAY & TUESDAY, JAN. 19-20
"It Started With Eve" and "Ellery Queen and the Murder Ring"

A completely new treatment of songs on the screen will be heard
in Deanna Durbin's new Universal
film, "It Started With Eve," co-
starring Charles Laughton and coming Monday and Tuesday to the Strand Theatre.

To introduce Miss Durbin's song
numbers naturally, Director Henry Koster has done away with orchestral accompaniment for the star's five selections.

Plays Own Accompaniment

Deanna sings and plays her own
piano accompaniment, and the custom of bringing in an orchestral background whether or not an orchestra appears on the screen has been discarded.

Deanna's new role is that of an ambitious young singer who is introduced into the home of a New York multi-millionaire, and who remains in the hope that he can further her musical career. She also becomes romantically involved
with his son, played by Robert Cummings.

Featured players include Margaret Tallichet, Guy Kibbee, Walter Catlett, Catharine Doucet and Charles Coleman.

Ralph Bellamy and Margaret
Lindsay, the Crime fighting pair
who have contributed so immen-sely to the popular success of the ELLERY QUEEN 42 series, return
in a suspenseful story of a home-
inhabited house.

WED. & THURS. JAN. 21-22

"Citizen Kane"

was voted THE BEST PICTURE
OF THE YEAR by the National Board of Review of Motion Pictures.

Hailed as one of the most unusual pictures in many years, Orson Welles' initial screen offering
"Citizen Kane," makes its debut
here Wednesday and Thursday as a real innovation in the field of film entertainment.

The story is told in a brand-new manner. Basically, it deals with the colorful career of a man who becomes famous as the head of a vast commercial empire; a man
who was born in poverty in the Colorado mountains, and who ends
his days in lonely splendor in his fantastic, half-finished castle on the Florida coast after watching
his empire crumble beneath him.

During his fifty years of power
the hero of "Citizen Kane" marries
twice, sees both wives divorce him
because they can no longer endure
living with him. With a great gift for friendship, nevertheless he
alienates all his friends.

"Charlie Chan in Rio"

added 2nd hit, added in place of
"Gullitt Sons."

VIVIAN

BREAKS RIGHT ARM
WHEN CRANKING CAR

The speaker at the Young People's meeting on Wednesday
of last week was Mr. Weir of the Mount Albert gospel church. He brought a splendid message from
Col. 3: 1: "If ye then be risen
with Christ, seek those things
which are above."

A short message was also given
by Garfield Brown, who has been home for the holiday season
from the west, where he is attending Prairie Bible school.

Mrs. Geo. Smalley sang a lovely solo, accompanied by Miss Elta Weller at the piano.

Mr. Rowan presided at the meeting.

Garfield Brown returned to the west on Friday.

Bruce Hood had the misfortune
to have his right arm broken
above the wrist on Wednesday evening of last week, while attempting to crank a car.

The women's meeting was to have been held on Wednesday
of last week, but owing to the severe cold spell only two managed to get out. Some could not get their cars started and others
had their cars freeze up after
they had been running.

The young people took charge
of the children's "Sunshine Hour" in the Mount Albert Gospel church on Friday evening.
Earl Grose presided. Messages
in song were brought by the Y. P. quartet, and a duet was sung by Misses Irene Baden and Christina Mulholland. Irene
Hood conducted a sword drill

Eversley

The chief topic for conversation for the past week has been
the very cold weather.

The week of prayer services,
in spite of the cold weather,
were well attended. On Monday night in the Baptist church Rev.
E. W. G. Worrall and Rev. Mr.
Anderson conducted the service.
Mr. Worrall conducting the singing and prayers and Mr. Anderson preaching the sermon.

The meeting on Tuesday evening was held in the Anglican church, Rev. Mr. Worrall officiating. On Wednesday evening
in the United church, Rev. Mr.
Anderson, the pastor, had charge
of the entire service. The theme,
"Good news for dark days," with
"Jesus Saves" as the solution,
was inspiring.

On Thursday evening Lang-
don's bus carried the people from King City to Eversley Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Atkinson conducted the service. Rev.
Mr. Worrall read the scripture
and Rev. Mr. Anderson led in prayer. And so, the New Year
has been ushered in by prayer
and with good news for the
possible dark days ahead.

Pte. Jack Ball, after sick leave
at home, left on Friday night for the long journey in this cold weather for Newfoundland. The trip includes railway journey,
then by boat, and again by train.

Mrs. Male (Rosie Anderson),
Mr. Male and daughter were home at Mr. T. Anderson's over the weekend and Marie Ball returned with them to her war
work in Toronto.

Mr. Alvin Crooke of Goderich
called on friends and relatives
here last week, calling on Miss Fisher, Miss A. A. Ferguson, Mr.
A. Bovair and Mr. Scott Bovair,
and at Mrs. Duncan McDonald's in Aurora. His son, Kenneth, is with the merchant marine and has reached India. No word has been received since October.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Johnston of Ottawa celebrated the 60th anniversary of their wedding on Jan. 5. Mr. Johnston is a brother of Mrs. E. J. Davis
of Newmarket and Mrs. Johnston was Robena Scott, one of the Eversley Scott family. Their wedding — a double one, for Annie Scott was married at the same time to Wm. Stewart, both of whom have passed on — was conducted by the pastor, Rev.
Walter Amos, at the Scott farm, Eversley. This correspondent
was present at the ceremony.

ing talk to the children, basing
his remarks on Isa. 1: 18.

Mr. John Mitchell went to Toronto on Sunday evening to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. S. A. Wood, who died early
Saturday morning at her home,
after a lingering illness of over
two years.

Some families have moved
from this community to seek employment elsewhere.

Keswick

Congratulations are being extended to Rev. and Mrs. Sorrick
on the birth of a baby girl.

Mr. and Mrs. George Yates of Orchard Beach, who on Sunday,
Jan. 11, were married 43 years.

The regular monthly supper of
the Keswick Christian church
Ladies Aid will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 21.

CURS AND SCOUTS

ATTEND CHURCH PARADE

Some 40 Cubs and Scouts of the 2nd Newmarket troop
attended a church parade to the United church in Aurora on Sunday.

The service was to commemorate the death of the chief of Scouts, Lord Baden-Powell. It is just one year since his death.
Rev. Roy Hicks delivered a most inspiring sermon to the Cubs and Scouts.

The Cubs and Scouts were grateful to the following men for M. Cockburn, R. D. Brown and lacking cars: G. D. Bender, W. S. J. Marwood.
